#EmployeeSpotlight

Meet Michelle Rozanski, Senior Business Analyst for the City of Winter Springs. As a Senior Business Analyst, Michelle thrives on the challenges of her role. One of Michelle's key responsibilities is overseeing budgets for essential aspects of Winter Springs, including parks and recreation, urban beautification, and community events.

Michelle began her 11-year tenure with the City as a customer service representative with the Winter Springs Utilities Department before advancing to become an integral part of the Winter Springs finance department. Her love for problem-solving and remarkable organizational skills make her an invaluable asset to the City's operations.

“What I love about my job is working on the budgets and problem-solving; there is something satisfying about it,” Michelle said.

A proud Winter Springs resident, Michelle says our first-class parks and exceptional schools are just some of the things that make the City and community she serves so special.

But what truly sets Michelle apart is her deep appreciation for her coworkers. She cherishes the collaborative spirit and camaraderie she shares with her colleagues, making each day at work an enjoyable experience.

Michelle Rozanski is a shining example of a dedicated individual who makes Winter Springs a wonderful place to live and work.
